Dear Jolanta Glińska,

We are delighted to inform you that the Faculty of Nursing and Midwifery at the Medical University Łódź has been accredited as an International Council of Nurses (ICN) Research and Development Centre. As an ICN Accredited Centre, the research done using the International Classification for Nursing Practice (ICNP®) will be of keen interest to ICN and to the growing network of ICN Accredited Centres.

You may use the following designation for your Centre:

“ICN Accredited Centre for International Classification for Nursing Practice (ICNP®)
Research & Development by Medical University of Łódź”

You may also use the ICN logo with the designation. Guidelines for use of the ICN title and logo are attached.

ICN is pleased to facilitate communications regarding ICNP® activities amongst this network. We hope you will use the ICNP® Bulletin to access and disseminate news about ICNP and your related activities. Members of ICN Accredited Centres are also expected to attend an ICN-organized consortium meeting, to be held every two years in conjunction with the ICN Congresses and Conferences.

We appreciate your interest in ICNP® and welcome the Faculty of Nursing and Midwifery at the Medical University Łódź as a new ICN Accredited Centre. Please contact myself or Amy Coenen, Director of the ICNP® Programme, if you have questions. We look forward to future opportunities provided through this partnership.

Yours sincerely,

David C. Benton
ICN Chief Executive Officer
